VINTAGE 2019

We, winemakers, enjoy remembering each harvest: every vintage is unique and, at the same time, it is a challenge to overcome, because weather conditions we deal to are not always proper.

2019 harvest is one that we will never forget, it is such a 'great harvest'. One year more, the 'unwritten rule' about vintages ending in '9' is met again: every vintage ending in '9' is exceptional. Of course, 2019 vintage also is.

Pérez Pascuas Winery (Ribera del Duero) enjoyed a very nice 2019's harvest thanks to the weather: we could pick all the grapes before the typical autumn rains began.

During 2019, the cycle of the vine was characterized by a very cold and dry winter, that delayed the vine sprout.

Then, a hot and very dry summer with huge changes in temperature between day and night and some late summer rains, helped to balance the ripening of the grapes.

After a long year of hard work in the land, our vineyards have provided us a low production but a very high quality grapes.

We have obtained very complex and well structured wines, due to a high polyphenolic concentration. After ageing the wine in oak barrels and with a long rest in the bottle, we are sure that these wines will represent the essence of the Ribera del Duero.
